That wheel of fortune should not be tolerated on the street.

The Republican comes to you every day and you'll learn to look for it.

The Windmill silver bill is a misnomer. It is a gold-bug bill. Let us have free coinage.

No matter how much it may cost, it will pay to sprinkle the streets systematically and thoroughly.

The entertainment in the opera house tomorrow night is in a worthy cause and the house should be crowded.

The churches of Phoenix are always well attended, a sign that the preachers are eloquent and the community spiritual.

The plazas in front of the city hall and the courthouse are kept in splendid condition and add decidedly to the attractiveness of the town.

Mr. DYER's birds-eye view of Phoenix is a painstaking and accurate work, and the author should receive the most substantial encouragement towards its publication.

As idea of the rapid increase in population of our chief city may be gained from the fact that 6,000,000 people a month pass over the East river bridge, or 200,000 a day.

The REPUBLICAN is pleased to hear that Hon. J. A. Black, of Tucson, who so seriously burned his hands some days ago, has found relief from his excruciating pains and is rapidly improving. We wish him a speedy recovery.

The Tucson newspapers have written more about journalism in the last month than they have practiced in ten years. It is not what one knows about journalism that counts, its what one puts into execution.

A second murderer has been sentenced to be electrocuted at the Auburn state prison in July. It will be a race between Fish and Kemmler as to which shall be the first victim of the criminal electric machine.

The following truths are from the Tucson Citizen: "It should be the constant aim and interest of all organizations to talk well of their Territory. A good word in its behalf may travel more slowly than a bad one, but it gets there all the same."

What a lawyer is afraid to utter in court he should not urge a newspaper to give currency. The place to try a case is the court, not the columns of a newspaper. The true attorney bows to an adverse decision and does not air his grievances on the streets and in public sheets.

An anti-gambling league is announced as forming in England, the Earl of Aberdeen to be the first president. The qualifications for membership will be an agreement for an annual payment of a shilling, and the signing of a pledge "to abstain from betting." The outcome of this league will be very much like that of the anti-treating societies of America.

The Methodist church south is the first Christian organization to begin the agitation of the divorce question here to follow the special census to be taken on the subject next month. This great social evil will be a feature of the census, with a view of utilizing the result in framing a National marriage and divorce law, the necessity for which has existed for many years.

The management of THE REPUBLICAN is duly grateful to the press of Arizona and our older acquaintances, the papers of California, for the kind reception they have given our venture. We shall make an effort always to deserve their good opinion, though we may disagree ever so widely on public questions. Our partisanship will not be so narrow that it can see no good in the opposition.

With the hot weather things political are warming up over in California, as we judge from the following headline in The Phoenix, of Riverside: "Political Bathing—The Public Office Natatorium. Liberal Patrons—Some Old Sea Lions in the Swim. While the Bank is Crowded with New Bathers All Ready for the Plunge."

No paper that wilfully, maliciously and from personal or party malice impugns the integrity of the Courts of the section in which it is published is a good friend of the community. Wherever it reaches it does harm, since men will not invest their money in a country where the government is corrupt and judicial processes uncertain of justice.

THERE isn't the best of feeling between France and Italy, and the press of Paris is doing everything to foment the prejudice. An opportunity has been given them by the expulsion of French correspondents from the Italian parliament, and they are making the best of it. The fine Italian hand of the Church of Rome is visible all through the controversy and Premier Crispi fully understands this. He knows the tactics of the priests.

THE INSANE ASYLUM.

Under the administration of Governor Zuleika a $10 book known as the "kode" and containing the Act of the Legislature regulating the government of the Territorial Insane Asylum was published. It is in the province of but few residents of the Territory to possess this expensive "kode," hence THE REPUBLICAN this morning gives a few extracts from the act mentioned. Before doing so, however, it should be stated that the "Act regulating the government of the Territorial Insane Asylum" was passed in 1885 and the asylum built soon afterward under Governor Tritle's administration.

Sec. 1, of the Act, provides: "There shall be established within and for the Territory of Arizona an asylum for the insane, which shall be known as the Insane Asylum of Arizona." * * * and said Insane Asylum shall be constructed by and remain under the control of * * * directors of said Asylum to be hereafter appointed in accordance with the provisions of this Act."

Section two provides that "There shall be a Board of Directors of the Insane Asylum of Arizona, which shall consist of three persons, a majority of whom shall have power to transact the business and perform the acts required of said Board."

Section 4 provides that "The said Board of Directors shall have full power and authority to manage the affairs of the said Asylum." And this section also provides for the construction and furnishing of the building for the Asylum purposes by the Board of Directors.

Section 17 provides that "The said Board of Directors shall elect a Secretary and Treasurer of the said Insane Asylum," and prescribes the duties of these officers. It requires of the Secretary a bond in the sum of $10,000 and of the Treasurer $5,000 for the faithful performance of their duties.

Section 18 provides that "The compensation of all officers and other persons elected and employed by said board shall be fixed by said board."

Section 20 provides that "The said Board of Directors shall employ and maintain in charge of said asylum, a resident physician, who must be a college graduate in medicine and surgery, and have practiced his profession as such for not less than four years, and require of him a bond in the penal sum of $5,000, with two or more good and sufficient sureties, conditioned for the faithful discharge of his duties, which are, or shall be, prescribed by law and by the by-laws enacted by said board."

Under these provisions of the Statutes who should rule the asylum, Dr. Titus or the Board of Directors? The question now is, how long will the sanctimonious Democratic hold-overs indirectly keep up the fight they have persisted in for over a year to the great injury of the Territory?

The Directors of the Insane Asylum, on Saturday surrendered an old desk, some books of record and accounts, but Dr. Titus is in possession of the asylum and he still holds on. It is said that he proposes to defy the lawful board, retain possession and run the institution on his own account. Ex-Judge Barnes, Mr. Alexander and Mr. Street, who appeared as attorneys for the holdovers declared, in Court, that the Superintendent of the Asylum and of the Prison were subordinate officers and under the control of the Board of Directors of the Asylum and Board of Commissioners of the Territorial Prison. But now it would seem, from Dr. Titus' position, that they have changed their base and claim that he is not only a public officer, but superior to the Board of Directors. THE REPUBLICAN trusts that common sense may be allowed to govern the holdovers for once in their lives and that for the good of the Territory Dr. Titus will step out of a position not legally his, as he should have done long ago.

WAIT FOR MY BIG BROTHER.

The Gazette of yesterday is in the attitude of the little boy who boo-hoos over the street, crying, "just wait until my big brother comes." It says:

Ex-Governor Zuleika will guard well the interests of Maricopa county in the sixteenth Legislative Assembly. The reputed administration will hear something drop, when G. Meyer puts his shoulder to an investigating committee.

Will this committee ask permission to travel in foreign lands? If so, what a jolly time "Little Steve," Fred Smith and the short-horn statesman would have junketing together at Territorial expense. And what's the matter with the rest of the prison commissioners or ex-Recorder Bayard joining the merry-go-round? As yet there are no strings on the last three, but the flies are beginning to gather and they may soon be looking out for less torrid regions.

In the meantime, what is the matter with our neighbor initiating the investigation business in its own account? It is a little dull locally just now, its telegraph is edited with the scissors and a little "digging" as the news-hunters put it, would do it good. By all means, let the investigation proceed.

The "original package" had a lively time in several of the suburbs of Pittsburg, Pennsylvania, yesterday. An agent brought into these towns, in which local opinion prevailed, a car-load of beer in eight and quarter barrel kegs. They were sold out in a jiffy and in a few hours animated "original packages" went reeling through the streets to the scandal of the borough. The boys had a good time, but the good people were shocked and there's blood on the municipal moon in Leichburg. There is something essentially wrong in the "original package" decision, since it is destructive of every principle of local rule, and it should be promptly remedied by the passage of Mr. Wilson's bill now pending in Congress.

In speaking of the manufactured dispatch which appeared in the Tucson papers relative to appointments in this Territory, the Arizona Citizen says: While prating about fairness, a deliberate misstatement of facts so far as they relate to the City is made in the foregoing. The Citizen receives the afternoon dispatches, the Star the night dispatches, and for the benefit of their readers each paper makes use of the other's telegraphic service. This was the case of the objectionable telegram. It appeared in the Star under the head of "What Does It Mean?" on the morning of the twentieth, and in the Citizen on the afternoon following, but under the head of "The New Collector." The Citizen copied and published the dispatch because it believed it to be genuine and we do not as yet know anything to the contrary. In publishing it as an item of news, and not with the remotest desire of injuring anyone. No one knows better than Governor Wolfley.

Governor Wolfley had no more to do with our comments than he had with the original dispatch. As to the explanation made by the Citizen it will not do. The fact remains that the dispatch did not come by Associated Press, and it is money to marbles that it was written in Tucson. It follows that it was a contemptible fraud, concocted to deceive and to mislead, an act no reputable newspaper would be guilty of.

"He was drunk," and if he had only killed himself there would not be much to complain of, but he also seriously injured his mother-in-law and his wife. He was an Italian and lived in New York. There is a world of argument in favor of prohibition in that dispatch. The state has a right to protect a man from himself and it is a plain duty to protect others who may be cast in the path of such a brute. In New York the law punishes a person who attempts to commit suicide. There is little difference between the pistol and insanity-producing fuel oil. What difference does exist is in favor of the pistol.

Russia's interests in Behring sea are identical with those of the United States. Our rights there are those we acquired by purchase from the Czar in the Alaska deal. Russia and the United States will stand together in defending those rights. They are natural allies, though in form of government they are as wide apart as the poles. This country has never forgotten the friendly attitude of Russia during the civil war nor England's open sympathy with the Rebels. About nine-tenths of the people of this country would be pleased to see a war with Great Britain.

This is from the Tucson Star: "Says the REPUBLICAN: There is too much talk and too few facts to the square inch in Arizona journalism. THE REPUBLICAN means to keep to the facts," and the three-day-old newspaper in another paragraph says: "THE REPUBLICAN has now double the circulation of any newspaper in Arizona." It would appear that the new venture was getting a mighty rapid circulation or had forgotten to keep close to the facts. The two paragraphs in the same column look somewhat imaginary." Very true, neighbor, but it is a living truth. We stick to facts, even at the risk of disgruntling our neighbors.

NO PETTIFOGGING, GENTLEMEN.

We have heretofore labored under the belief that the courts were bound to decide causes before them according to the law as applied to the facts of the case, and that the court itself had no right or power to decide any cause pending before it otherwise than according to the rule established by the law. Our neighbors of the Gazette, however, take the position that the court should strike a general average of causes, and after having decided some of them in favor of one party, should turn about and decide an equal number in favor of the other party, as follows:

"Isn't singular, neighbors, that in a long and varied line of 'decisions' that not one can be found on the side of Democracy? In and out, don't this partake of the ridiculous? In all of the various dips, spots and angles, thus followed by the court, the apex has been found in every instance to be on the Republican lead. Gentlemen, you can't fool the people in this matter."

"So say we all"—no, not exactly. The publication of this sentiment is evidently inspired by some shyster lawyer, who has been worsted in the law applicable to his cause and would therefore raise a howl of this character for the corrupt purpose of influencing in his favor a decision in some pending cause in the very teeth and eyes of the law, because, forsooth, the court has already decided some other cause against him. But the public is not to be fooled; it is too well acquainted with such shallow, pettifogging and fraudulent practices.

JOURNALS AND JOURNALISTS.

The Tombstone Prospector makes up in snap what it lacks in size.

The usual ante-campaign changes are taking place on the newspapers of California.

Our contemporary, the Gazette, is preparing to receive dispatches and brighten up generally.

The Mohave Miner knows to ask Brother Chatham if he knows anything about the Arizona Press association.

The Tempe News is a live, wide-awake and readable paper, a credit to our neighboring town and an influence for good for the entire valley.

The Florence Enterprise is conducted by hustlers, who have built up a reputation and a circulation for their paper all over the Territory. One of them is now working Cochine county.

The REPUBLICAN regrets to hear that Mr. Andrew Pollok, business manager of the San Diego Union, is not in robust health and has been compelled to find relief at the Arrowhead Springs. Mr. Pollok has shown business qualities of a high order in placing the old Union on a paying basis. I hope to hear of his early complete recovery.

Thus from the Tombstone Prospector: "A new Democratic paper is to be started in Tucson. Parties have been negotiating for the purchase of the Epitaph plant in this city but it is understood that the present lessees refuse to give up their lease which extends to March next. The new enterprise will be fathered by George H. Daily. We have two plants over at this office, one of which we will part with for the almighty dollar."

"Says the Wilcox Stockman: The litigation in regard to a water ditch between the San Simon Cattle company and several residents of Lordsburg and San Simon has ended. A decree was entered at Silver City last week in favor of the San Simon company."

POLITICAL POINTERS.

Is the long run honesty wins, even in politics.

The Zuleikas came into court—and the next day it snowed.

MARCUS AURELIUS SMITH will not have a walk over for Congress.

The Mormon question cannot be ignored in the next campaign.

The population of Maricopa county may be increased twenty-five per cent before election.

The retirement of the Southern Pacific Company from politics is rather annoying to some people.

L. H. CHALMERS has announced his intention of running for district attorney of Cochine county.

Says the Citizen: "The friends of Supervisor George Wilson are talking of putting him forward as a candidate for sheriff before the Republican county convention."

Who were the Southern Pacific political managers in Arizona, recently retired without pay. Really, but it is chilly over about Yuma, just now.

The Valley Bulletin says: "Francis J. Heney, of Tucson, is said to be an aspirant for the Democratic nomination for councilman from the southern district. Also some people are anxious to see Hon. A. R. English enter the race for this place."

"BUCKY" O'NEILL's friends are pushing him for Congress and we are violating no confidence when we say that he would wipe up the earth with Marcus Aurelius.

The Prescott Courier says it will be glad when the campaign is over. That's the experience of all men who have fought a campaign. The newspaper is always the loser in a political fight.

The Tombstone Prospector says "there are at least two candidates for appointment to the position to be left vacant by the resignation of Harry Carpenter—providing he resigns; C. D. Reppy and W. W. Woodman."

The Mohave Miner: "W. L. Van Horn has been appointed by Governor Wolfley as the Republican alternate to the World's Columbian Commission. The appointment is an excellent one."

A CORRESPONDENT writes to ask why Marcus Aurelius Smith was so late in getting to Washington last winter? He was delayed at Tucson, repaying his obligations to the Mormons by helping to clear some of the men who robbed Major Wham.

In its sarcastic moods the Gazette speaks of Royal A. Johnson, of Tucson, in connection with the Congressional nomination. It is needless to say that Gen. Johnson has no ambition in that direction.

THE TERRITORY.

The water in the Gila river is lower than it has been at this season for years.

Ex-Sheriff Bob Hatch is now Chief of Police of Tombstone, having succeeded Dick Gage, who killed himself.

The Arizona conference of the Methodist church will meet this year in Tucson on August 2nd. Bishop Goodsell will preside.

The Chiricahua Cattle company is gathering another train load of steers on its range in Graham county. They will be shipped east from Wilcox.

A Mexican circus held forth in Solomonville last Sunday night. There was a large attendance, and some of the performers were announced very good.

Nathan Solomon has been appointed a deputy assessor and collector of Graham county and is now assessing property owners in the Gila valley.

Lyman and Ed. Follett were convicted of cattle stealing in the District Court at Solomonville last week, and sentenced to two years each in the Territorial prison.

Tucson is dead in earnest about building a road to Mammoth. It means money to Tucson to make this connection and the old pueblo is too wide-awake to lose such an opportunity.

From the Wilcox Stockman: "Some individual in the East got the Yucan and Signal mail route for $985. He is now looking for some one to take it off his hands at the same compensation. So far he has been unsuccessful."

From the Wilcox Stockman: "George Frisk and W. H. McKittick have returned from Kansas, where they recently took about a thousand steers. It will be remembered that the cattle were driven from here to Silver City and then shipped to Emporia. They stood both the drive and shipped splendidly, and only one animal was lost. The steers were placed on pasture near Emporia, and will be marketed later on."

THE MINING INDUSTRY.

The Prospector and the Miner Delving for the Metal.

This interesting bit of news is from the Tucson Citizen: "Engineers passed through here a few days since, to the San Pedro, in the interest of the North and South railroad. When this road is built, as it certainly will be in the near future, the trade and traffic of Tucson will more than double in a year."

SAYS the Valley Bulletin: "It is safe to predict that within the next five years a railroad will be built through the Gila valley in Graham county. It may be built during the next two years. Then what a rush there will be made for the rich and at present uncultivated lands lying between San Jose and Fort Thomas, and even further down the river. The road that will probably get here first will be the Santa Fe, with the connecting link from Benson to their line somewhere in New Mexico, likely at Socorro, or near that point. A railroad is what we need; it is what every country needs, and the more lines the better. This country will soon begin to be known for its many resources; then railroad men will investigate, and when they have completed the investigation the fairest land in the west will lie before them, on which the ties and rails will be laid at once. Those who come to the Gila valley this year will not have to wait long before they can take the train at Solomonville, Safford or Pima for a visit to the old home in the states."
